Debbie R. Dembinsky is a trusts and estates attorney admitted to practice in New York and Florida. She advises high-net-worth individuals and families on tax planning, wealth preservation and asset protection. Her practice focuses on structuring and implementing sophisticated strategies for QSBS stacking, domestic and offshore asset protection, and the minimization of estate, gift, GST and income taxes.

Debbie is also a New York State licensed psychotherapist and formerly maintained a private practice in Long Island, New York. Her combined expertise in law and clinical psychotherapy brings a unique, holistic perspective to the planning process, particularly in navigating the complex family dynamics and interpersonal considerations that often accompany wealth and estate planning.

Experience

Debbie has expertise in advising and creating flexible structures for:

- Entrepreneurs seeking to maximize QSBS potential;
- Professionals, such as surgeons, whose work exposes them to a high risk of lawsuits;
- Business owners desirous of maintaining investment and management control over assets gifted for gift and estate planning purposes; and
- Clients with highly appreciating portfolios who wish to capture asset appreciation outside of the transfer tax system.
