Debbie R. Dembinsky is a trusts and estates attorney who advises high-net-worth individuals and families on tax planning, wealth preservation and asset protection. Debbie's legal practice is focused on structuring and implementing comprehensive strategies designed for QSBS stacking, domestic and offshore asset protection, and estate, gift and income tax minimization.

Debbie is also a New York State licensed psychotherapist with a private practice in Long Island, New York. Her combined expertise as an attorney and a psychotherapist allows her to bring a unique and holistic perspective to the planning process which often presents complex interpersonal dynamics.

Experience

Debbie has expertise in advising and creating flexible structures for:

- Entrepreneurs seeking to maximize QSBS potential;
- Professionals, such as surgeons, whose work exposes them to a high risk of lawsuits;
- Business owners desirous of maintaining investment and management control over assets gifted for gift and estate planning purposes; and
- Clients with highly appreciating portfolios who wish to capture asset appreciation outside of the transfer tax system.
