

COVID-19 Town Hall: Frequently Asked Questions

PRESENTED BY:

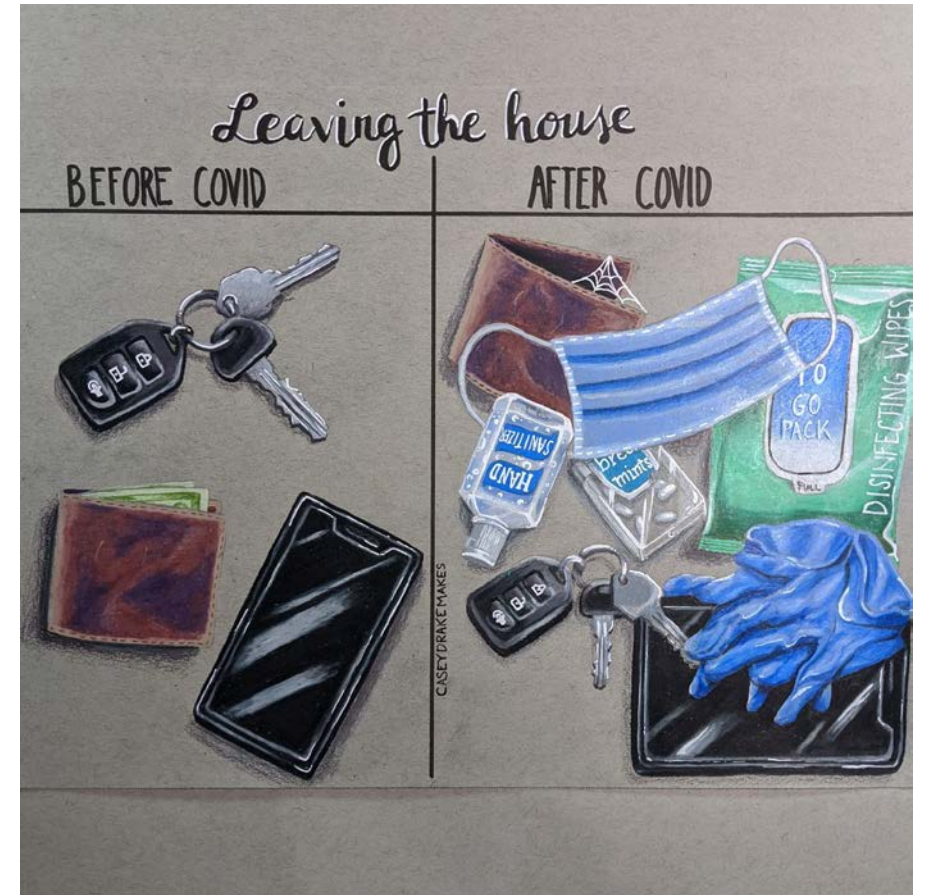

Domenique Camacho Moran, Esq.

Tuesday, July 7, 2020

Disclaimer

The information provided in this presentation does not, and is not intended to, constitute legal advice. This has been prepared for informational purposes and general guidance only and is not intended to be a thorough, in-depth analysis of specific issues. The information contained in this presentation does not constitute professional advice and is not intended to substitute for professional legal advice. Please be advised, the rapidly changing public health crisis has resulted in frequent changes to the legal and regulatory guidance regarding COVID-19 legislation. Information contained in this presentation may not constitute the most up-to-date legal or other information.

IRS Circular 230 Disclosure: To the extent this presentation contains federal tax advice, such advice was not intended to be used, and cannot be used by any taxpayer, for the purpose of (a) avoiding penalties under the Internal Revenue Code or (b) promoting, marketing, or recommending to another party any transaction or matter addressed herein.

<https://www.facebook.com/caseydrakemakes>

Can we require employees work in the office?

Employees refuse to return to work because they are “vulnerable.”

Who is really vulnerable?

Employees report that their kids are home and they can't return to work.

What are our options?

Do employees really have to fill out the questionnaire everyday?

Employee showed up after going to the doctor to be tested for COVID-19.

Now what?

I got it...no business travel.
So, no worries about New York's travel ban...right?

We are requiring masks.
But, how do you make employees comply and wear the mask properly?

Some employees have health issues that prevent them from wearing a mask.

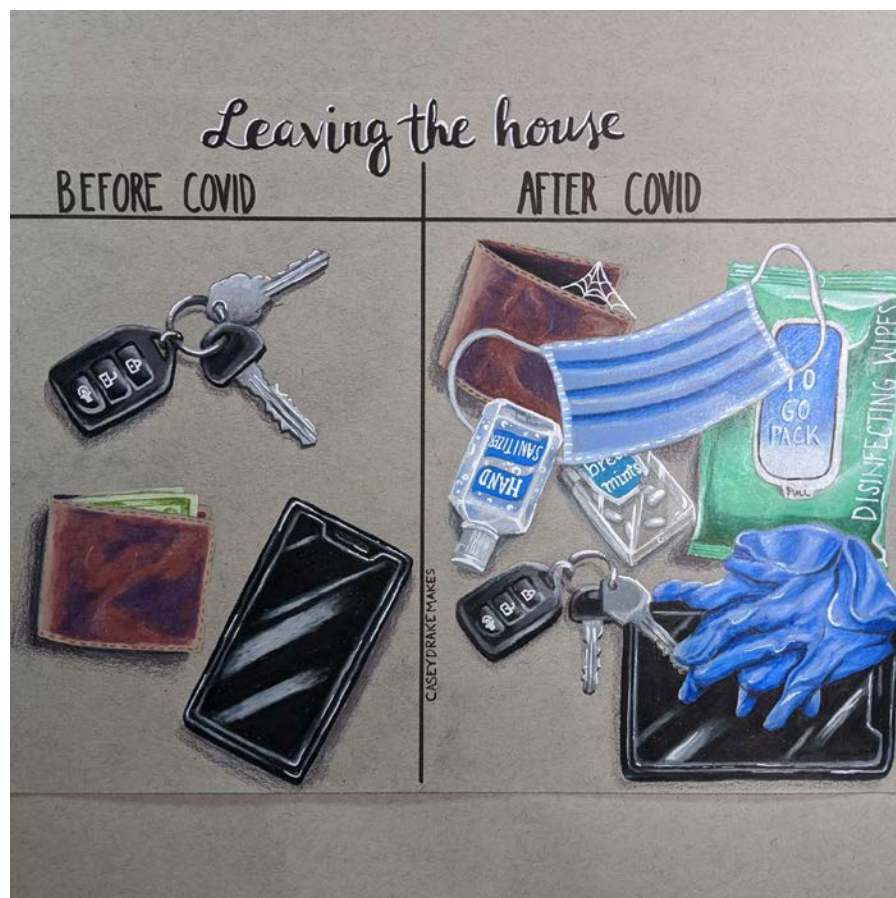

What do we tell other employees?

We have decided to let employees decide whether to continue working remotely.
Any concerns?

Business is not coming back,
we have to cut our staff.
Will we get sued?

Additional Questions

Domenique Camacho Moran, Partner
Farrell Fritz, P.C. dmoran@farrellfritz.com