Joshua M. Herman Joins Music at the Anthology Board

Farrell Fritz congratulates Joshua M. Herman on his recent appointment to the board of Music at the Anthology (MATA). He will serve a three year term.

Joshua is a commercial litigation associate in the firm's New York City office. He earned his J.D. from New York University School of Law and his B.A. from Tufts University.

Music at the Anthology (MATA) is an organization that commissions, presents and supports the music of a broad base of composers from around the world, especially those whose work does not fit into existing institutions. MATA presents an internationally-recognized festival each spring in NYC of new music by early career composers and "MATA Jr.," an evening of music by pre-college composers mentored by emerging composers.
