PATRICIA C. MARCIN

Farrell Fritz P.C.

Patricia C. Marcin is of counsel to the law firm of Farrell Fritz PC, with offices in Uniondale and Hauppauge. Marcin concentrates her practice in estate and tax planning, including the preparation of wills and trusts and estate administration. She helps her clients plan for the transfer of their assets through lifetime gifting techniques and at death in the most tax-efficient manner to achieve their goals. Marcin analyzes estate and fiduciary income tax issues in estates, including postmortem tax elections. She also helps clients and their families navigate the practical issues that arise after death, as well as the legal and tax issues such as probate, the preparation of estate tax returns and federal and New York State estate tax audits.

"There has been renewed focus on the increase in the federal estate tax exemption and the resulting income tax analyses this increase requires when employing estate planning and estate administration techniques," Marcin said. "Furthermore, there is renewed focus on the discrepancies between the federal and New York State estate tax regimes"

In addition, with the burgeoning special needs population, clients are wisely paying attention to proper gifting and estate planning techniques for heirs with special needs who are, or in the future may be, receiving governmental assistance, Marcin explained.
